Jekyll and Hyde

Judas Priest

Your innocence all but fades
When we peel the veneer away
It's all an act which you stage
With your two face barricades
Rage consumes you every night
Caged inside you trying to get outSchizophrenic basic needs
Fools me into complacency
Now I see through your facade
Behind the mask a monster snarls
Hatred burning in your chest
Dazed but learning in your questOh it's killing me your unpredictability
Oh all the time, you hide behind
Your Jekyll and HydeNow I realize, there's a dark side
Disguised, always changing
Then love hating, baiting meYour innocence all but fades
When we peel the veneer away
It's all an act which you stage
With your two faced barricades
Rage consumes you every night
Caged inside you trying to get outOh it's killing me your unpredictability
Oh all the time, you hide behind
Your Jekyll and HydeOh it's killing me your unpredictability
Oh all the time, you hide behind
Your Jekyll and HydeJekyll and Hyde
