Better and Better

Calexico

Theres a letter she keeps inside, a list of everyone she knows
Behind her closed eyes that turn her in when its time to go
Shes heading north into the haze, raise the wire and they raise the rent
Shes walking the sun back home and in the night the moon is gone
Is it better? Is it better and better?
Is it better than staying home with nowhere to go?
Ive seen your face out on the plains drifting all alone
Draw my finger in the dirt and down another blue road
Shes in Kansas and Alabam, Idaho and the Carolines
Know Ive seen her before cant you recognize those hands
Is it better? Is it better and better?
Is it better than staying back home?
Is it better? Is it better and better?
Is it better with nowhere else to go?
