

The Leper Affinity

Opeth

We entered winter once again
Naked, freezing from my breath
'Neath the lid all limbs tucked away
This coffin is your abode, from now and onwards
Your body is mine to avail
Such a tragic sight you are
Slave under my creed
Spurring me with those tears
I am beyond death
Midst a dreamin' affinity
Saving strength now, faint whispers
Come erotic communion in its splendor
Fever mirrored ghosts
Night time consolation
Across the line
Draw murder into art
Sleep inside through days
In the wake of this relief
Shivering longin' for more
Insanity at its peak
Love me to my death
Lost are days of spring
You sighted, let me in
Keep the beast inside
Shackled within my hide
Screamin' out too late
Losing to my hate
Grew together, with your skin
And paced the, trails of sin
Your gaze covered with virgin snow
Rigid features
It's the shallow deeds who is to blame
Deafening shrieks pierce the night
Ohh
A step from oblivion
Moving into the dim lights
Hiding within a reverie
It was worth it for the wait alone
Your body is mine to avail

Such a tragic sight you are
Slave under my creed
