

Lift Me Up

Howard Jones

Ive got your picture in the palm of my hand
And Im squeezin it, Im teasin it
Id follow you to the edge of this land
But Im losin it, confusin it This is a man who has lost control
Lost the road to a higher soul
Stop me from fallin you know I need you To lift me up, wont you lift me up, yeah
Wont you take me to a place that I once knew
And when you can see youve always been there for me
Im waiting for your love Therell be a time when all our rhythms of love
Shakin it, were makin it
Therell be a place where life is livin to give
This harmony it will come to me And when I think of those who love you now
If I had my chances again somehow
Stop me from fallin you know I need you To lift me up, wont you lift me up, yeah
Wont you take me to a place that I once knew
And when you can see another side of me
Im waiting for you Im not eating, Im not sleeping with this tension and this worry
You dont call, you dont write me I need your love in a hurry
Teach me, reach me, meet me, beat me
Tease me, please me, come and seize me This is a man who has lost control
Lost the road to a higher soul
Catch me from fallin you know I need you To lift me up, wont you lift me up, yeah
Wont you take me to a place that I once knew
And when you can see youve always been there for me
Im waiting for your love
And when you can see the changes Ive made in me
Well Im waitin for, you know Im waitin for your love
