

Lucille's Song

Caldera

And still I was through, all my life, is only me, I was alone, for so very long, it seemed I was never going to find someone like you.

But I had the time of my life,
I already knew, someone like you,
but we were through, and I tried to make it work, but the life we had was so very dull and over,
and the life I had was so very dull and I couldn't try to make things right for you,
make things right with me.

Only trying to find the way, the words, to say these things, so sweetly making me rhyme, Oh I, tried to find myself against, amongst the wind, and it was through, and I love you.

I'm so alone here in my room,
I try and find the words to say, something new.

I cant believe you're finally gone, and I'm so, so very alone, and tried to think, of what we think, yeh we may sink into another oblivious, loving, falling, oh my god, I'm finally leaving you and I'm so lost, without your words. I, I know your games, I know the flames and the words that you say are trying to drag me down and I am dragging you down with it I cant stand it any longer.

Lyrics submitted by Barry.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>