

In the Aftermath

Cut Up

The stench is everywhere, burning bodies
Mile after mile, this is the aftermathScarred for centuries
The soil is swamped with bloodA cataclysm, we brought upon
Termination, it has begunThose few that survived, crawling skinless
Naked mutated ghosts, searching for coverShelters already infected
Every breath is deadlyThe final dawn for mankind
A toxic mist will devour us allThe atmosphere is thicker than blood
None will live to face the dawn
Caustic horror, fatal burns
Life eradication
A cataclysm, we brought upon
Termination, it has begun
