Where The Skies Are Blue

The Lumineers

You're gonna leave, it ain't gonna break my heart, mama
I've never seen nobody quite like youAnd if you ever change your tune
Oh, the world's got the best of you
You can always find me where the skies are blueWanted to change, turn into what you love, mama
And I woulda gave all of my best to youSo, if you ever need a fool
Who will give you a love so true
You can always find me where the skies are blueLay your dreams, little darlin', in a flower bed
Let that sunshine in your hair, in your hairYou're gonna bleed somebody's brand new love, mama
Who's gonna feel you like it always doAnd when your fairytale is through
And you're looking for someone new
You can always find me where the skies are blue
You can always find me where the skies are blue
