Time to Kill

Alice Cooper

Well, I was born on a dead end street
I'm cold blooded but I always felt the heat
All my friend are dead and gone
If there's a hell, I'm one step closer to itSomewhere I crossed the line
Somewhere I'm lost in time
I lost my soul
And now I'm losing my mindTime to kill
I've had enough of all your lies
I've only got time to kill
You've seen the fire in my eyes
I've only got time to killI spend my days counting bricks on the wall
And every night I hear those sirens call
I sink deeper into a convicts sleep
And dream about the day I'm gonna hit the streetsOne time I cursed the man
He laughed and broke my hand
I'm gonna take that fist and make him understand
I'll make him understandI've had enough of long goodbyes
I've only got time to kill
I feel the fire in my eyes
I've only got time to killYou know I always thought there was time enough
To win the game
But now I know times are rough the seasons changed
(Times are strange)Somewhere I crossed the line
Somewhere I'm lost in time
I lost my soul
And now I'm losing my mindTime to kill
I've had enough of all your lies
I've only got time to kill
I've seen the fire in my eyes
I've only got time to killI've had enough of long goodbyes
I've only got time to kill
I feel the fire in my eyes
I've only got time to kill
