In The Summer

Jordan Hull

I was born in the unknown
I am the ruler in knowledge of prophecy
The beholder of your life

Life is sometimes very strange
You can never know what's waiting behind the corner
Tomorrow you may be gone

You don't know the end of your life,
only that you where born
In my eyes I can see your future

Crystal eyes, I see the shadow in the dark
Crystal eyes, I see the face under the mask

I see the growing hate and fear
I can see what's on a dictator's mind, but I don't wanna realize

Down-heated in the jaws of death,

And we all will be gone

You don't know the end of your life,
only that you where born
In my eyes I can see your future

Crystal eyes, I see the shadow in the dark
Crystal eyes, I see the face under the mask

I got eyes of the future
I can see the end of the Earth
Someone will blow up the world
War, death and starvation
We have gone to far
It's time to pay with our lives

You don't know the end of your life,
only that you where born

In my eyes I can see your future

Crystal eyes, I see the shadow in the dark
Crystal eyes, I see the face under the mask

It's time to pay the price
