Target

Graham Nash

I am an archer
With my arrows and a bow
And I'm taking aim upon your heart
By now, I'm sure you know
That the arc of my arrows cut
Through air and space and light
Aiming at your very soul
My target tonightAnd I hope my aim is true
And that you never feel a thing
As my arrow flies to find you
Bringing love's eternal sting
And though we are connected by
A sparkling silver light
The distances between the clouds
My target tonightMy target tonightMy target tonightWhen I turn my eye towards you
My quiver feels so full
The bow is taut
And I'm feeling the pull
My dream appears before me in
The early morning light
Cause there you are beside me
My target tonightMy target tonightMy target tonight
