

Backstabber

For All Those Sleeping

Lets get this straight
You're reaching out for me
After all the times you watched me bleed
Now you expect me to put my hand out for you
I'll never stop
I'll never quit
You deserve everything you're about to get
You're out of second chances
You're out of time
There's are no exits left so you can burn in your own fire

Watch your back
After all the ones you stabbed
You know you're bound to make some enemies like me
It's to late for apologies
You may never regret what you've done
Buy you're going to regret me

I'll set you straight
Do you think this is a game
After all the times you walked on me
How can you expect me to have sympathy
Is it so hard to understand
After all the lives you ruined
Some might want revenge
So go on keep smiling
We'll see who has the laugh last

Watch your back
After all the ones you stabbed
You know you're bound to make some enemies like me
It's to late for apologies
You may never regret what you've done
Buy you're going to regret me

I told you this wasn't a game

This is your judgement day
It's me you have to face
I'll never stop

I'll never quit
You deserve everything you're going to get
