Home Is Here

Dogwood

Holding on when it seems that your grip is failing
Whos to say that you cant take it back?
Live your life as if you know this is your last day
Make the choice to live foreverThe decisions weighing, the answer is yours
You cant wait forever, dont let yourself hit the floor
The prodigal one, wont you return?The light is on, the door is open
Your bed is made, your home is here
Come back and laugh and we will forget
Everything youve done wrong is gone hereStepping back to see footprints youve left in your path
Stepping up for everything youve done
Now move on pack up your thoughts and keep on going
Keep the faith and you will be all rightThe decisions weighing, the answer is yours
You cant wait forever, dont let yourself hit the floor
The prodigal one, wont you return?Receive the letters sent from here
Receive the prayers prayed for you hereThe decisions weighing, the answer is yours
You cant wait forever, dont let yourself hit the floor
The prodigal one, wont you return?The light is on, the door is open
Your bed is made, your home is here
Come back and laugh and we will forget
Everything youve done wrong is gone here
Everything youve done wrong is gone here
Everything youve done wrong is gone here
