Been So Far

Teen Idols

Somewhere down on highway 51
Been thinkin' about you for so long
Can't seem to count the endless miles
Or the times I've missed your smileBut then you were so very young
And a young girl must move on
But there's nights that I wonder
If you rememberBut I've been so far away
I really have to say
I never once forgot you
Or the memory of your face
But I've been so far awaySometimes children make a vow
Friends forever starting now
They can't know what lies ahead
End up breaking words they've said
