Ocean

Freedom Call

The time has come
And the spell has broken foreverIt's time, I'm longing for home again
And I fly from the eye of the storm I come
I see that shine wherever I roam the land
I'm alive and I'm climbing back to the sunDistant places, different traces, far away from here
Distant places, different traces, so far awayOver the mountains, over seven seas
I dive into an ocean, gliding with the stream
Over the mountains, high over seven seas
I'm flying on emotions, soaring on the breezeA cry, the sound of my tragedy
Hear the sigh with relief in my heart again
Peace in my mind and I'm riding on the wind
Tell me why, tell me why I have tears in my eyesDistant places, different traces, far away from here
Distant places, different traces, so far awayOver the mountains, over seven seas
I dive into an ocean, gliding with the stream
Over the mountains, high over seven seas
I'm flying on emotions, soaring on the breezeOver the mountains, over seven seas
I dive into an ocean, gliding with the stream
Over the mountains, high over seven seas
I'm flying on emotions, soaring on the breezeOver the mountains, over seven seas
Over the mountains, high over seven seas
