Timekiller (And One remix)

Project Pitchfork

TimekillerGo away, leave me alone
I feel your presence in my mind
The time seems to stop I set you free
You calm my mind you calm my mindMake my dreams come true baby
Every time it seems to me
That fiction and reality melt together for eternityLiquid words dropping down the stairs
Filling the emptiness with sense
You and me on the floor floating on our sensibilityYou need a timekiller and you don't understand
I am like quicksand, lick it from my hand
I am your timekiller, I let your mind expand
I am like quicksand, lick it from my handTick tock, tick tock madness comes tonight
What's reality compared to me
I rest on the bed and I'm sure I slowly get madI'm in a state of mind which makes me blind
For the fact that I'm a man
I'm here to stay forever but not todayYou need a timekiller and you don't understand
I am like quicksand, lick it from my hand
I am your timekiller, I let your mind expand
I am like quicksand, lick it from my handYou need a timekiller and you don't understand
I am like quicksand, lick it from my hand
I am your timekiller, I let your mind expand
I am like quicksand, lick it from my handIn my heart there's no place for you
And in my mind there's no space for you
The exit already melted away
And now there's nothing left to sayYou need a timekiller and you don't understand
I am like quicksand, lick it from my hand
I am your timekiller, I let your mind expand
I am like quicksand, lick it from my handYou need a timekiller and you don't understand
I am like quicksand, lick it from my hand
I am your timekiller, I let your mind expand
I am like quicksand, lick it from my hand
