Slayer

Candypants

See my friends, the ghosts and demons
How they live to taunt and torment for play
But when they come to me all fierce and buddy-buddy
They don't bite me- they kiss me goodnight

And then they walk away
You make them go
They just walk away
You make them go

Safe in day, and light?
Not really, 'cause they lie in wait, eager to tag me
When I try to run, it's just more fun for them
But now they lose- they don't get to choose

Don't they fear my slayer?
See it in their eyes?

My old friends, the ghosts and demons
How they miss me so
They scratch at my window calling come and play
And they're most captivating
Then they see your face on me

And they walk away
You made them go
They just walked away
You made them go

Lyrics submitted by kelly smith.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/