

Oracle

Sheavy

Tears in the eyes of fate,
Whisper softly silent sounds
Tears in the eyes of fate,
see a world turned upside down
Time drifting slowly, through the eyes of the oracle
Can I ask a question?, What does the future hold?
Sign of the times my friend, so much at your finger tips.
Sign of the times my friend, never reaching things you see.
Life passes quickly, see the eyes of the oracle.
Can I ask a question?, what's left for me?
Come see the oracle, the profit looks my way.
No tricks, a crystal gaze, no words to say.
Open your mind to every single thing you see all that's good and evil, frozen in your dreams
So once you meet my friend there's nothing left to feel
The things you hope to see, have never been so real now everything will hold the brightest sky will say,
I pray for darkness, is the price inside you'll pay
