

Farewell Letter

Chrom

Now I am cold
So hold my hand again
I must have told
These words to you, my friend
This is the truth
You are so close to me
I've lost my youth
And I don't know what will be
No, I don't know what will be
But you're still so close to me
The end is near
It's darker than before
And have no fear
There's gonna be some more
Now I am old
And I can see
It was my fault
It was the pride that paralyzed me
What can I do now?
Now I apologize
I have to go now
I have to pay the price
I have to pay the price
I have to pay the price
Now I apologize
I have to pay the price
