

Blue Skies

Blackpool Lights

If ever there was a time
That you would say to me
This fire's burned out
Leaving only smoking black debris
I'd find a light to lead us
I'd find some meaning through it all
We'd search between the shadows
Cast across this wall

Please don't wait forever
Please don't throw it all away

I'm watching these blue skies turn to grey
And all these friendships fade away

If ever there was a way
That I could say to you
I'm lost in darkness
Searching for a way to make it through
And if the sky does clear up
I hope this wouldn't be the end
It's harder to be honest
Than to just pretend

Please don't wait forever
Please don't throw it all away

I'm watching these blue skies turn to grey
And all these friendships fade away
These clouded memories are seen through bloodshot eyes
I'm watching these blue skies turn to grey

If ever there was a time
If ever there was a way

Please don't wait forever
Please don't throw it all away
