Hired Gun

The Trophy Fire

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

come along, im a hired gun and well shoot ourselves towards the western sun well drive through palm to evergreen its hazy but i like the scene when i sing you sing along the bars close and we both stumble back home i know that i can be so damn dark but you are spark you are a spark when my set ends, we set on the town between all the people their silence, their sounds some whispers, some screams, all static to me because we leave tomorrow, right now i can see that
