

Waiting In the Lobby of Your Heart (Re-Recorded)

Hank Thompson

I didn't have to be thrown in a dungeon
Or left in the chamber cold and dark
For such loneliness I'm sure is the same that I endure
While I'm waiting in the lobby of your heart[Chorus]
And now I'm waiting, waiting in the lobby of your heart
I'm on the doorstep, yet we're so far apart
Many times I tried, you wouldn't let me come inside
Now I'm waiting, waiting in the lobby of your heart You could have had me thrown into a prison
Or bound and tied with shackles on my feet
Instead of this sad taint to sit alone and wait
In the lobby of a heart that's cold as sleet[Chorus]

Songwriters

THOMPSON, HANK / GRAY, BILLY
Published by
Lyrics © Warner/Chappell Music, Inc.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>