

If I

Fantastic Mr Fox

If I hadn't been a quiet introspective kid
If I hadn't been a nerd, wouldn't have met with him
    If we hadn't observed we'd be the best of friends
That preferred the spoken word to the toke and binge
    If momma hadn't died when I was young
    Would me and sis been so tight from jump?
    If dad hadn't lost his mind to a disease
    Would I be up here askin' ya'll to notice me?
In the dark times, didn't know where the path went
I was close to the edge like Grand Master Flash said
    It was hands of my friends that held me back
Yes, without them I'd MJ keep slidin' backwards
    Or be a hypocrite like some others have been
    If that and the other hadn't happened
    Don't know that I'd ever been Brer Rabbit
Askin' how many if's between hero and has-been?
    If I, if I, if I had only known
    That I would be a lamb to the slaughter
        Now I know
    If I, if I, if I had only known
    I know, I bet it only makes me stronger
        Now I know, now I know
        Now I know, know, know
        Now I know, now I know
        Now I know, know, know
    If I hadn't grown up in the 80's
Experiencing the various things that made me
    Would I still be standing center stage
    Trying to innovate new ways to demonstrate?
If mommy-daddy hadn't turned off Mork and Mindy
    To inform us divorce was pending
Would him and me have spent these 23 years in a frenzy
    Moving back and forth with such forceful energy?
        I remember when I was a little baby
        Lying there alone on my pillow casing
        Upset already I could feel the aging
        The urge to return was debilitating
        And maybe I'm still afraid and need to Cry a little harder for the world of play things

Stop looking back on these silly day dreams
Sing along with me if you feel the same way

If I, if I, if I had only known
That I would be a lamb to the slaughter
Now I know

If I, if I, if I had only known
I know, I bet it only makes me stronger

Now I know, now I know
Now I know, know, know
Now I know, now I know
Now I know, know, know

If I had known what awaited was unplanned

If I had known the blade was in a loved one's hand
If I had known of the possible injury

If I had known the altar was meant for me
But now I know nobody can predict events

And now I know there's cracks in the picket fence

Now I know that something else exists
And now I know a life can be built from this
If I had known emotions would still remain
If I had known that time wouldn't heal the pain

If I had known the intent of the injury
If I had known the altar wasn't meant for me
Now I know there's treasure hidden in these scars
Now I know there's presence in an empty yard
Now I know what it took for me to survive
But now I know where to go to become alive

If I, if I, if I had only known
That I would be a lamb to the slaughter
Now I know

If I, if I, if I had only known
I know, I bet it only makes me stronger

Now I know, now I know
Now I know, know, know
Now I know, now I know
Now I know, know, know

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlrics.com/>