Evol Intent & Ewun

For what it's worth, I feel it slip away
I've become immune, woke up in a daze
Show me what you meanTake away from me, everything I have Everything I need, suck me dryYou don't come, you don't write, you listen
I'm a messenger sent and I know it's in my head
My mind's wastedFor the last time please pull me under
I can take anything and I know it's mine, it's risingSo now it seems that you push me away
Further than I've been but not too far to stay
Here where I belong where my soul can rest
I need time to heal, I need time to see
You've sucked me dryYou don't come, you don't write, you don't listen
I'm a messenger sent and I know it's in my head
My mind's wasted
For the last time please pull me under
I can take anything and I know it's mine, it's risingAnd so you emerge like a butterfly
But so dangerously are you
Beautiful tonight, drawn me in the shadows
Won't you walk, you walk away, I look awayLift me up I want to see
Then drag me down from everything
In this I cannot see the end
And I will only be your friendTears drop and my eyes closeWhat's the problem
You're the problem nowYou don't come, you don't write, you don't listen
I'm a messenger sent and I know it's in my head
My mind's wastedYou don't come, you don't write, you don't listen
I'm a messenger sent and I know it's in my head
My mind's wastedFor the last time please pull me under
I can take anything and I know it's my, it's rising
