I'll Forget You

Linda Eder

I'll forget you
The more you stay inside of me
The weaker I grow
I'll forget youTomorrow I will turn and let you go
I'll grow colder
I'll lose myself in anything but you now
For there is nothing I can do nowBut forget
I'll forget you
I won't remember arms that pulled me in soft
And slow
I'll forget you
There has to be a way to let you goNo more shadows
No dreams of leaning in the dark above you
I will forget how much I love you
Any dayEvery evening shivers
With the chance that you are near
And every morning whispers
He is hereEach moment is a fight
Not to rush into your light
Not to move closer
But to make you disappearI'll forget you
I've got to find the strength
To pull away from your glow
I'll forget youGod help me see
The way to let you go
I do not want you
And still you steal each breath
I'm breathing from meWith just a touch, you overcome me
And I let you
I will forget you
When I dieI will forget you
I will forget you
