

I Am

Lara Fabian

How many miles, how many steps must I take?
How many tears, how many times can I break?
Show me the meaning now, show me the reasons why Does it make sense somehow? All that I am is what I was and who I'll be Here where I stand is all I have and what you see
Take these empty hands, this is all I am, I am Oh, I'm letting go, don't wanna fight anymore
I need to show every side of my heart
Now I can face the night
Daring to dream again, suddenly I'm alive All that I am is what I was and who I'll be Here where I stand is all I have and what you see Take these empty hands, this is all I am, I am, this is all I am I never thought our love had a beautiful side 'til I surrendered
You never feel the wind till you run for your life All that I am is what I was and who I'll be Here where I stand is all I have and what you see, all what I am
Here where I stand, who [Incomprehensible]
Take these empty hands, take these empty hands
And this is all I am, I am, this is all I am
