Climbing Walls

John Matthias

Run and break the chain I hope to get away some day.
To feel just what I want and to feel the hold you have on me.
Climbing up a wall Im waiting for the weather to sway,
Im feeling like a fool in a cage theres nothing left to say.Looking at the past I try to push your words away.
Im rising up above to my sunset where the sky is grey Taken for a ride now Im reaching out to take control
Im searching for the truth when I know that it wont lead the way.Oh, I keep trying to run away, from what youre saying.
Oh, I keep trying to run away,
but I stay standing.Following a ghost in the distance of a brighter day
Its swimming in my mind now its building like a tidal wave.
Breaking down the walls that have kept me climbing up so high.
I feel the rays upon me and now the shadows run and hide.Oh, I keep trying to run away,
from what youre saying.
Oh, I keep trying to run away,
but I stay standing.
Oh, I keep trying to run away,
from what youre saying.
Oh, I keep trying to run away,
but I stay standing.Oh, I keep trying to run away,
from what youre saying.
Oh, I keep trying to run away

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/