A Day to Remember

I hate this town, it's so washed up
And all my friends don't give a fuck
They'll tell me that it's just bad luck
When will I find where I fit inOne two three fourRemember when I tried
I never strayed to far from you
Forever by your side
No matter what I was going through
But now I never know the things to say to you
Now help me, but know I'm still on your side
I never showed just what you do to me
This song was always wrongI hate this town, it's so washed up
And all my friends don't give a fuck
They'll tell me that it's just bad luck
When will I find where I fit in
I hate this town'Cause no one can understand
I just can't be tied down
Nothing comes between me and my plans
So now I never know the things to say to you
Now help me prove that I'm still on your side
I never showed just what you do to me.
The timing was always wrongI hate this town, it's so washed up
And all my friends don't give a fuck
They'll tell me that it's just bad luck
When will I find where I fit inAnd don't believe a word they're telling to you
Don't believe a word they're telling to you
They let me down, when will I find where I fit in
I hate this town.My world cannot ever bring me down
Everything I had is turning back around
Because our time's worth something
Bigger then both you and meI can't live my life always backing down
I got to do this right, then make it make a sound
'Cause I'm not here for nothing
At least I can say I stand for somethingYou and me we stand for something.I hate this town, it's so washed up
And all my friends don't give a fuck
They'll tell me that it's just bad luck
When will I find where I fit inAnd don't believe a word they're telling to you
Don't believe a word they're telling to you
They let me down, when will I find where I fit in
I hate this town.
