Watch the World Cave In

The New Amsterdams

The world's caving in
I got tickets for two
They're not the best seats
And they're not the best viewTake my hand, you can squeeze on my arm
Wake from your slumber, baby
It's gonna start
It was worth the price of admissionThe two of us watch the world cave inThe world's caving in
Like the prophecy calls
Barter redemption
For diamonds and pearlsThe rich got the camel
Through the eye of a needle
The deed in itself was inherently evil
When all has been said and writtenThe two of us watch the world cave inThe world's caving in
They're releasing the souls
Trapped in the earth
Where, we can't hear their callsUnbelievable torture
You wouldn't believe
This is their passion, their chance to be free
But they're beaten into submissionFree at last, watch the world cave in
When all has been said and written
The two of us watch the world cave in
