Evaluation Day

The Planet Smashers

You want to tell your boss what you've been thinking
You want to make sure he knows what your doing Work overtime never show up late, sweat for the company and hope for a raise It's one more week until evaluation day
Your setting up your boss just to give you that raise Smiling so much your cheeks are getting sore Hate the things you do just to get a little more Need some time to think it over
These are the days you get to work on time, tow the company line to get a raise next time
These are the days that you try to be seen, be the bosses pet when your playing for the team Filling out the forms as you've been told You deserve more cash for the crap you take You long for the day when your boss is on vacation
Dreaming of the day when your boss takes a vacation
You want to tell your boss what your really thinking
You want to let him know that his company sucks Wouldn't it be nice to flip him the finger
But you're just going to sit there and take it in the ass
Need some time to think it over
These are the days that you try to be seen, be the bosses dream and your playing for the team
These are the days that you're dressing all fresh, trying to impress when it's time for a rest
These are the days that you try to be seen, be the bosses wet dream makes you want to scream
These are the days that you get to work on time tow the company line until the day you die!!!
