Sister

Sarah Bettens

Sister, I know there been times
When you didn't think I was a very good friend
Sister, you must think I'm out of my mind
It's a struggle sometimes to pretendBut I know what I'm doing
I know who I am
I know how it works
And I'll see where it endsSister, I need you more now than I ever did
I've been thinking again, I've been thinking againLife can be tricky and sneak up on you
Like a tiger looking for pray
And we've had our share of surprises
There must be a good one coming our way'Cause we're really all looking We're really all lost
The less we expect
The smaller the costsSister, I miss you more now than I ever did
I've been thinkin' again, I've been thinkin' againThings that aren't funny, are funny with you
So I'm better when you are around
I might say I don't need any advice
But I'll wear the clothes that I foundIn the back of your closet
Wherever you hide
Secrets that nobody
Ever will findSister, I love you more now than I ever did
I've been thinkin' again, I've been thinkin' againSister, I love you more now than I ever did
I've been thinkin' again, I've been thinkin' again

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/