All On a Misty Morning

Paul Weller

I come to you when you least expect
I call to you to come with me now
I ask of you to drop all things of absolution
And whatever may be in your handsAll on a misty morning
I come to you with love
All on a misty morning
I come to you, I come to you with loveI talk to you as a lover should
With a voice close to your ear
If I may get so near enough
Oh, you might hear, what I hearIt was all on a misty morning
I come to you with love
All on a misty morning
I come to you, I come to you with loveLet my hands be nimble
Let my tongue be quick
Let my loins move slowly
Against your skinLet my face and mind
Disappear for a while
Let my kisses rain
Down like silkLet our spit and sweat
Mingle into one
Let it form a stream of union
That would always run forever onIt would have no start and know no end
It would have no start and know no endAll on a misty morning
I come to with love
All on a misty morning
I come to you, I come to you with love
