Smack

From Zero

Slave you get what you bring Tired or you get what we give I feel like I'm stuck in between

Again, again, again and againLoath, I've been subjected to what you've said

You're pissing harder than what you know is right

A joke where you stand, no thought overflow

Look down on the upsideTake, you've taken more than enough away

You say tomorrow is just another world

That'll choke in you throat so you dope up the flow

And look down on the upsideSlave you get what you bring

Tired or you get what we give

I feel like I'm stuck in between

Again, again, again and againBreak, a broken spirit is what you gave

You hold the pieces of what you know are mine

Crawl back in your hole and choke on the bone

Of what's left on the outsideNever again, never again, never again

Just leave what is mine, throw you away

Test me over time

Just leave what is mine, throw you away

Test me over timeToo bad things aren't what they seem my friend

To be my friend, too bad this is all I try

Too bad things aren't what they seem again, seem again

I've washed right out of my dear old past, that was the filth on meLoath, I've been subjected to what you've said

You're pissing harder than what you know is right

A joke where you stand, no thought overflow

Look down on the upsideTake, you've taken more than enough away

You say tomorrow is just another world

That'll choke in you throat so you dope up the flow

And look down on the upsideSlave you get what you bring

Tired or you get what we give

I feel like I'm stuck in between

Again, again, again and again
