

Opposites Attract

Billie Myers

I've watched the morning undress you
So many times but I still catch my every breath
It hasn't always been easy
So many changes but time washes over us
No you don't blame me for all that I'm not
For all that I am you say is so much more than good enough
Who said that opposites don't attract?
If you say this then I'll always say that
Who said that opposites don't attract?
If black is white, and white is black
Then it's the fact we're both different
That makes us the same, that makes us the same
Friends say we've got nothing in common
In different shoes but it's the same ground we're walking on Everything that is different is still
Still talking under siege, but that won't pull us apart
You say you love me for all that I'm not
And I still love you for all that you are
Who said that opposites don't attract?
If you say this then I'll always say that
Who said that opposites don't attract?
If black is white, and white is black
Then it's the fact we're both different
That makes us the same
But we always find ourselves in the middle
Oh I don't blame you for all that you're not
For all that you are, is so much more than good enough
Who said that opposites don't attract?
If you say this then I'll always say that
Who said that opposites don't attract?
You and me, me and you
Yeah, it's the fact that we're different
Yeah, it's the fact that we're different
That makes us the same
I'll never ask you to change

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>