Pink on White Walls

Paul Weller

The sun shone pink on white walls
And the trees stood so tall
Defiant, proud, loud against the skyThere's no sign, there's no plan
There ain't even a helping hand
Just the bitter tang of sweet virtueDon't waste your time, don't hesitate
Oh life is but a moment, you can't wait
Go and have your fun, go and lose your mind
Can you get back to the ones you left behind?The sun shone pink on white walls
And the trees stood so tall
Defiant, proud, loud against the skyYeah when it comes, it comes quick
When you're least expecting it
But the top's the bottom, the bottom is all you gotDon't waste your time, don't hesitate
Oh life is but a moment, you can't wait
Go and have your fun, yeah go and lose your mind
Can you get back to the ones you left behind?And sun shone pink on my wall
And the trees stood so tall
Defiant, proud and loud against the skyYeah when it comes, it comes quick
When you're least expecting it
But the top's the bottom, the bottom is all you gotThe sun shines pink on my wall
And the trees stand so tall
I'm empty now, funny how Defiant, proud, loud against the sky
