

The River of Sadness

Rikard Sj  blom's Gungfly

The River of Sadness
Stars align, the passing of time
How you work me, I can  t understand
Up and down and round and round we go, go, go
A river of sadness, the flow of things is hard to understand

Tell it again like it was the very first time
In the songs where I first heard your voice
It  s the place I love the most, still I have to go
Tear it all up, I need my mind as blank as snow
I gotta watch myself let go of you
Is it really true?
So what did I say to you when I was at your door?
Like a million times before I gotta watch myself let go

Far out now - time to head back
The open sea - my hunting ground
The great unknown that lies beneath the salt and foam
But where is home when you  re not there?

Salt and Foam
Down, down, down we go
On the river of sadness
A flow of things that I can  t understand

The Distant Shore
They told me to live my life while I  m young
The dream is for everyone
So I lived my life in a song
Where I felt the red, warm sun
In a flash it  s gone
I cannot believe that I tried to let you go
I swam to reach a distant shore
But then jumped back in for more, like I have before
I  m an open sore
In the arms of my true love

In Orbit
Instrumental

The River of Sadness (reprise)
Tell it all againâ€¦
