

Stretch

Cog

He stands alone
In a world made of steel
Chances were low
For the man behind the wheelCutting the drift line
Leaving love by the dock
Sailing for Jordon
Turned his back on the knotInto it on the outside
Out of it on the in
Long and hard
In his time in bazaarChances were low
Like a blind man swimming against the tide
(Don't be afraid of what you are)
Into it on the outside
Out of it on the inTide, tide
Into it, out of it
Into it, watching
Waiting for him to fade awayYou and me have stretched this far
Stretch again, stretch right now
Stretch right nowInto it on the out side
Out of it on the in
Into it on the out side
Out of it on the in
