

In My Grave

Mason Jennings

Hollow-body, bones and shoes
You can never get back what you lose
    When will I stop crying?
    When will I stop crying?
Oh my dear, I know too well
    When I'm in my grave
    When I'm in my grave
When I'm in my grave, that will be the day
Happiness, you're so untrue
I can't stand the sight of you
    When will I stop lying?
    When will I stop lying?
Oh my dear, I know too well
    When I'm in my grave
    When I'm in my grave
    When I'm in my grave
    That will be the day
Put a stone where no one knows
Dress me in my Sunday clothes
There'll be no more talk of the holy
    There will be silence only
And I cannot wait for the day
    When I'm in my grave
    When I'm in my grave
    When I'm in my grave
    That would be the day
    That would be the day
That's gonna be the day
    That would be the day
