Ark of Infinity

Pallas

Contemplating hopes and dreams of a new age
All we leave behind is tainted by tears
Our tomorrows lie ahead there in the stars
Reaching for the stars in seven heavens
Into the haven of the night
Formations flying like Geese, we are free
Look on through space
Our backs to the sun
We stand at the window
Where all this began
Planet Earth is shrinking
A sapphire explodes
Our hearts heave a sigh
Now we've reached the crossroads
Onward through the night
Our hearts beat as one
Our journey's begun to infinity
Though my eyes are open it's only a dream
Now I'm looking upwards and so it seems
That the skies are filled with the Strangest of birds
