

10 Silver Bullets

Swallow the Sun

Burn-marks on my chest so the arrows won't miss
Surrounded by the cupid of Lucifer
And she, who stands on his left side
With her burning spears Straight into the heart, my love
Straight into the heart The silver bullets, but I won't shed a tear for you
Won't cry for mercy, none from you
They always find you in the shadows
For my heart is a light house of burning flame Straight into the heart, my love
Straight into the heart Would have followed you down to the depths of hell
And saved you from these flames
Built a bridge over this dark world
That we have created
"Blessed be the ones who do not feel
For you the heavens are open
Such is the nature of the heartless" "And for us who tread in the dark
The road goes on forever
From the sunrise on to sunset
And all through the night" The serpent's words, I remember well
And the venom she spat
Unholy offering of fire and lust
Was a road straight to hell "Blessed be the ones who do not feel
For you the heavens are open
Such is the nature of the heartless" "And for us who tread in the dark
The road goes on forever
From the sunrise on to sunset
And all through the night"
Ghosts and owls wrapped around my neck
She led me too far this time
There's no heaven to help us now, no repeat Woman is a creator
Man is a destroyer
Or so I thought
The judgment of our sins fell upon us From the ivory garden
Of the gods
To the worms of the earth
To the worms of the earth! "Blessed be the ones who do not feel
For you the heavens are open
Such is the nature of the heartless" "And for us who tread in the dark
The road goes on forever
From the sunrise on to sunset

And all through the night"
