Evil In A Closet

In Flames

We were one in words
You finished my sentences
I can never attract tomorrow
It pushes me aside
I sink in waters deep
Your presence kept me floatin'
Far from depths where secrets lie
Maybe in another lifetime
I could be the first you meet
I once read a poem
Held my breath
But that moment's gone
First time I felt life somewhat hurts

Need an option, a reason and some hope
Yell at me, I want to be your light that shines
But my ground's shakin' and I might fall
I wish that I could say
I wish that I could be your
Evil in a closet
Yell at me, I want to be your light that shines
But my ground's shakin' and I might fall
I wish that I could say
I wish that I could be your
Evil in a closet
