Welcome Home

All Mankind

Your bloodied eyes they were staring at me
Made up your mind, now you're ready to leave
But you won't forget
Say you won't forget me
I tried to speak, but you turned to go
Now every day I'm waiting for your spirit to flow through this home again
Please come home again ... my loveAnd I'll give you the fanfare
Give you the lights
Roll out the banner and
light up the night
Pick out the sharp suit
Jacket and tie
Shine up my shoes and
write in the sky
Welcome home again, welcome home again, my loveYou give your life for the sorriest sons
And say your love is for everyone
But will you still be free to spend some time with me?
Yeah I'm jealous and I know it's unfair
But I'm a lost dog when you're no longer there
So come home again
Please come home again my loveAnd I'll give you the fanfare
Give you the lights
Roll out the banner and
light up the night
Pick out the sharp suit
Jacket and tie
Shine up my shoes and
write in the sky
Welcome home again, welcome home again,And I'll give you the fanfare
Give you the lights
Roll out the banner and
light up the night
Pick out the sharp suit
Jacket and tie
Shine up my shoes and
write in the sky
Welcome home again, welcome home again, my loveOh can you see,
The ticker tape streams

Are raining down?Oh can you see
The cannons at sea
Are sounding out...?Oh can you see
The ticker tape streams
Are raining down?Oh can you see
The cannons at sea
Are sounding out for my loveAnd I'll give you the fanfare
Give you the lights
light up the night
Jacket and tie
write in the sky
light up the night
Welcome home again, welcome home again, my love
