Vertigo

Brian Marc

Want you every moment that we pass it
I ainâ€™t joking, I ainâ€™t laughing
You are like a substance, like a habit of a drug addict
I can feel the pressure of repression and Iâ€™m mad at it
And you donâ€™t know the half of it
And I donâ€™t know whatâ€™s happening

Vertigo
This ainâ€™t what I pictured as we flirted, no
Diagrams,
Drove myself into your picture mighty fast
Feel the rain fall down on me
Feel the rain now on your knees

I can feel the-
I can feel the pressure
I can feel the- pre-
I can feel the pressure

Morning torn your tarot cards and worrying cause battle scars
Some things do not happen of it
Folks like you donâ€™t come around
Like normal people scared about
Thereâ€™s one of you
Thereâ€™s none of you
Iâ€™ve been â€˜round this way before but no one like you came to core
It just feels like some curtain core needs
Itâ€™s curtains for you
Its curtains for me

Vertigo
This ainâ€™t what I pictured as we flirted, no
Diagrams,
Drove myself into your picture mighty fast
Feel the rain fall down on me
Feel the rain now on your knees

Open up your window pane
You cant live in shame
You cant live in shade

When the sun is almost spotlight in our mental flames â€˜Cause itâ€™s a thing
Itâ€™s my favorite thing
And I would tell the world about you if I was allowed to
I would scream your name

Lyrics Submitted by Kelsey Ares

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/