

Guilty Girls

Buffalo Tom

You will be the last man standing

Forget about the guilty girls

And your sins are so demanding

Forget about the guilty girls

Forget about the guilty girlsWhile the years are disappearing and your backs against the wall
And the maudlin tears are streaming youll make another callAnd now, who made grief a woman

Who strolls right in, no compromise

I have just seen your ex-girlfriend

Shes working there from 9-5

She stares right through with almond eyesWhile the years are disappearing and your backs against the wall
And the maudlin tears are streaming youll take another fallWhile the years are disappearing and your backs against the wall

And the maudlin tears are streaming youll make another callWe ll I heard that he got married

Forget about the guilty girls

But it got too hard to carry

Forget about the guilty girls

Remembering those guilty girls

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlrics.com/>