

Resurrection

Jason Gray

Knuckles white, you hold on tight
For far too long you've been hanging on Leave your past right where it's at
'Cause every night gives way to dawn I ain't talkin' about death, no no
I'm talkin' about life, yeah yeah
Because of grace we're not who we were yesterday I believe in resurrection
I believe in second chances
Love's just beginning
To rewrite the ending
I believe it's far from over
Even when it looks like hope is gone, gone, gone
I believe in resurrection
I believe in resurrection There's still life beyond our sin
Where the dreams that die are born again
I'm telling myself what I'm tellin you
I have to believe He's making all things new I ain't talkin' about death, no no
I'm talkin' about life, yeah yeah
Because of grace we are more than our mistakes I believe in resurrection
I believe in second chances
Love's just beginning
To rewrite the ending
I believe it's far from over
Even when it looks like hope is gone, gone, gone
I believe in resurrection
I believe in resurrection You might be down, you might be out, you might be all alone
You might feel lost, but you're almost home I ain't talkin' about death, no no
I'm talkin' about life, yeah yeah
Because of grace we're breathing in a brand new day I believe in resurrection
I believe in second chances
Love's just beginning
To rewrite the ending
I believe it's far from over
Even when it looks like hope is gone, gone, gone
I believe in resurrection
I believe in resurrection
