Off the Wall

The Elwins

In the highlight of an empty page
You words are memorized
And I can see that
All you need is love to fill your sunken eyesBut if you put your hands out front
You're never gonna feel
Something coming through you that is real
I'm talking to you
Well you're asleep
The words are coming at you
They don't go deep
The wind is just bouncing off the wallUp in the blue sky
There's a cloud that looks just like a dancing deer
But my heads are shifted and the images ain't lining up that clearSaying that you're right when you know you're wrong
Humming other words that could hurt the song
But nothing isn't something til it's trueI hope some day you'll feel
Something coming through you that is real
I'm talking to you
Well you're asleep
The words are coming at you
They don't go deep
The wind is just bouncing off the wallI'll make you a promise that I know
I know I can keep
I'll never retire
Even when I am tired and weak
Well I've gotta keep keeping, keeping on
I've gotta keep keeping, keeping onBut if you turn away
You're never gonna feel
Something coming through you that is real
I'm talking to you
Well you're asleep
The words are coming at you
They don't go deep
The wind is just bouncing off the wallThe wind is just bouncing off the wall
The wind is just bouncing off the wall
The wind is just bouncing off the wall
