Born Like This

Three Days Grace

It's not what I took from you
It's not what I stole
We are born like thisThe time has come to change this
To stretch the thought a mile
We've lost that kind of spiritWe want it back today
The time is right to change this
To make the life we know
They took what we were given
We'll get it back againSomewhere, someone's god is laughing
It's not what I gave to you
It's not what I sold
We are born like this
It's not what I took from you
It's not what I stole
We are born like thisYou try your best to mock me
You're always in my way
You've lost what you've been given
You'll get it back today
The time has come to change this
To make the life we know
They took what we were given
You'll get it back againSomewhere, someone's god is laughing
It's not what I gave to you
It's not what I sold
We are born like this
It's not what I took from you
It's not what I stole
We are born like thisSomewhere
You're floating high you're not living, we are Somewhere, someone's gun is some's gun is laughing

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/