

Hero Of Love

Live

I caught a glimpse of Heaven last night
To the left of your body, to the right of your mind
Lost in a riddle I was helpless to understand
I went to a healer, the healer held my hand
She said, "All of these things are written in the sand behind me"
Oh, I dream about you every night, I call your name
The whole world thinks that I am insane, here I come again, yeah
I caught a glimpse of Heaven last night
Through a crack in the mirror that fractalized the light
A saint is a sinner, a sinner is a saint
It's all just the cloaks we hide behind, a cartoon in the brain
And I say, "All of these things are written in the sand behind me"
Oh, I dream about you every night, I call your name
The whole world thinks that I am insane, here I come again
[Incomprehensible] hero of love takin' you higher
I wanna be your hero of love
Is it getting better, is it getting brighter
I wanna be your hero, your hero of love, of love, of love
I caught a glimpse of Heaven last night
Was that a number ninety six or was it a sixty nine
Oh, I was lost in a riddle I was helpless to understand
I went to a lover, this lover held my hand
She said, "All of these things are just written in the sand behind me"
Oh, I dream about you every night, I call your name
The whole world thinks that I am insane, here I come again
[Incomprehensible] hero of love takin' you higher
I wanna be your hero of love
Is it getting better, ooh, is it getting brighter, brighter, brighter
I wanna be your hero, your hero of love, of love, of love
I wanna be be your hero of love, I wanna be be your hero of love
I got to be your hero of love, I wanna be be your hero of love
I wanna move mountains, I wanna move the devil
I wanna move the President, on your knees, everybody, everybody
I wanna be be your hero of love
I wanna be be your hero, oh, yeah
