

You're Not Alone

Room 94

We couldn't wait to leave this school,
Teenage love screamed on the wall
    You had that look in your eye
I watched you swallow every lie.
    Empty cans and empty words
Straight through the heart it fucking hurt,
    Run into the darkness, start a fire, burn it,
Light it up, light it up, light it up. You're not alone, falling in love at 17.
    They'll never know the weight of the world
On my shoulders. I can't breath and I cross my heart and hope to die, keep you near.
    You're always right, you're not alone.
You're just a different side, a different side of me. You left me standing in the rain,
    Teenage boy tattood your name,
    You had that look in your eye
    I was yours and you were mine,
    Broken glass and broken words
    Straight through the heart
    Haven't you heard
    Run into the darkness, start a fire, burn it,
    Light it up, light it up, light it up!
    So close but so far away, break me down
    I'm yours to hate.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlrics.com/>