

Sleeping Giant

Sleeping Giant

Awake clothe yourself with, with my strength my betrothed one. Would you dance through? Find yourself in my home? Cus i, i know you, i chose you, i called you my own. Who are you that you fear mortal man? oh what a saga don't you forget me now cuz I set you on high. Take your place, know and be found at the sea, for I am the lord your God who churns up the waves, the waves of the sea. Awake.....Arise..... Do You see me? I see your face. One day I speak your name I'm the one that I'm calling you out. Awake, arise, put you hands up. Look in my eyes, I'm calling you out. He says take my hands. Awake Holy One, awake cherished daughters my honorable sons, you are under attack quit standing there listen til you fight back. I clothed you with grace as these demons assault you they spit in my face. What lies you believe? You Belong to Someone You belong to me. You belong to me and I've covered you with my right hand and these Giants have too long remained in theses lands. Yet my army arises wake O Zion, Sleeping Giant. wake, rise, re-build Up. Awake! Rise! re-build Up! Wake rise why dont you build up? awake, arise wake O Zion Sleeping Giants.
