

Through With Love

Nik Day

Love is a fantasy
Love's a facade
I loved to let burst, but then love just forgot
It promised me happiness, pleasure, and joy
But love is a vacuum
Love is a void

Love's a distraction and
Love is a lie
I loved to let bleed and my veins all ran dry
My heart shrivelled up and my vision was skewed
Love lets you down
So I'm finally through with love

Love is uncertainty
Love is regret
It'll take all you have and then leave you for dead
Love is a virus, a horrible play
Love is compulsive
Love's a mistake

It'll break all your bones, and buckle your knees
It'll get all your hopes up then dash all your dreams
Love's a deception
Love is the rules
Love is a heartache
I'm finally through with

Love, love, love, love
Love, love, finally through with
Love, love, love, love
Finally through, finally through with
Love, love, love, love
Love, love, finally through with
Love, love, love, love
Finally through, finally through with

Love is a poison
Love is a drug
An active volcano about to erupt

It'll take you so high, then watch as you fall

Love is an obstacle

Love is a wall

It's good while it lasts, but it's worse when it's gone

You'll wish that you could have just left it alone

Love's a mirage

Love's an abuse

Love's an illusion

I'm finally through with

Love, love, finally through with

Love, love, finally through with

Love, love, love, love

Finally through, finally through with

Love, love, finally through with

Love, love, finally through with

Love

Finally through, finally through with

Love
